Mr. Dodd said that all things being equal in was in favaor of giving the places on the force to the married men who had familie o support.

Mr. Clarke said he did not see why the difference should be made. The oath of office was to elect the best men to fill the positions. He was in favor of re-electing every member of the old force, provided the men had done their duty. He did not see any reason why good men should be turned off to make room for men just because they had families dependent upon them for sup-was only of a formal character, and that no straightout proposition had been made; that he had only touched upon the matter in a mild form. He again asserted that there was a ring formed and that for his part he intended to vote no more. He said that it was the biggest and most corrupt ring ever found since the time John Morrisey entered politics. He said that he had noticed that whenever the three gentlemen give his reasons for voting against a man that they belonged to him and that he saw men who were applicants for positions on the force that he would not vote for under any consideration. He had paid a great deal of attention to the matter and believed that he knew who were good men and who

Workmen. Landon, March 31 .- At a meeting of the perative weavers at Blackburn on Saturday, after reports of interviews with the mployers had been read, an operative loved to accept the five per cent. reduction and stated that half of the operatives of Blackburn were starving. The speaker was several times interrupted. Another speaker urged the strike. The union offiials pointed out that the strike would be inoportune. The discussion was animated and the show of hands nearly equal, but a ballot re-ulted in a majority of 101 in favor of accepting the reduction—the vote being 474 to 373. An Appeal for Sectionalism. New York Tribune

There is a division of parties which goes to the cry foundation of our system of government hat division can to-day be expressed only by the sistance of a solid north to the aggressive as Accause the norm resists, there is a radical, irre-pressible conflict. It was hoped that the defeat o grand rebellion had put an end-to-that conflict But it has come again and is here, and as dan gerous to the republic as ever. The south want and means to have certain things. The north wants and means to have certain other and very lifegrent things.

destination, and it is expected that the rail-roads will make rates to put in the power of thousands to go to those places. What they will do when they get there is an indifferent question to the organizers of the exodus. A still bolder, yet embryo, portion of the Scheme is to decimate the negro population of the Carolinas by shipping cargoes of them to New York and Boston on the pretense of high wages as dock-hands, drivers and porters. To make this work it is proposed to send out flaming and exciting circulars from alleged labor bureaus in New York and Boston, offering comployment to colored workmen in preference

Haverly's Minstrels.

The grand minstrel combination of forty Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday natinee. The troupe attracts crowds every where and gives a performance of rare vari-ity. The Detroit Free Press says: An auditorium packed to suffocation from top to bottom was the gladdening sight which met the managerial gaze when the curtain went up on the first part of Haverly's stupendous minstrel show last evening. It is safe to say that those pres-ent never got so much burnt cork enter-

"A Sudden Call " Considered. ATLANTA, GA., March 31, 1879.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION-In your paper of "A Sudden Call—Liquor Dealers." Allow me to correct an error in the above state-ment: the revenue officers can call and examine a dealer's book at any moment, and all dealers who comply with the law are never surprised at a call made by any officer, but, on the contrary, are glad to see them, and get all information from them regarding new revenue laws restaining to their factors. Two others will see traveler returns. Two others will see ng new revenue laws pertaining to their pusiness. Every dealer is well aware what business. Every dealer is well aware what the law allows him to do, with a wholesale license, and likewise with a rectifiers, but if the law allowed a wholesale dealer the same privilege as a rectifier then there would be no use for wholesale dealers to take out rectifier's license and thereby save two hundred dollars per year and consequently there was no mistake of the law as carclessness on the part of those who were compelled to pay their tax, and I think it but justice to the revenue officers and those dealers who paid their rectifiers license, that you make this correction in your valuable paper. Respectfully,

D. Mayer.

A Match Game of Base Ball. A Match Game of Base Ball.

About the middle of the present month a match game of base ball will be played on the ball grounds at Oglethorpe park between the Covington hine and the Alerts of Atlanta. Yesterday a letter was received by a member of the Alerts, of this city, stating that the Covington nine would visit Atlanta at the time above given and play a game.

Last year several attempts were made to get the Covington team to visit Atlanta, but with little effect. The game will be looked forward to with much interest. The Alerts have commenced practicing already.

"Lady of Lyons." In another column will be seen the adver-sement of the Louise Pomeroy combina-ion. This talented artists will appear at DeGive's opera house on the evening of April 2, as Pauline, in the popular play of "Lady of Lyons." Miss Pomeroy is supported by a fine company, among them several favorites who have for years past appeared before delighted audiences in New York. Miss Pomeroy is by no means a stranger to the theater-goers of this city, having appeared before already this season in
